

A PHILIPPINES BLOCKADE.

NAVY WANTS TO SHUT OFF THE INSURGENT SUPPLIES.

Nice Point in International Law Involved.—The Government has decided to declare certain ports closed to commerce and to blockade the Philippines. The Government has decided to declare certain ports closed to commerce and to blockade the Philippines. The Government has decided to declare certain ports closed to commerce and to blockade the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—A new, and it is believed, an effective means of preventing the Luzon insurgents from securing munitions of war and other supplies from outside will probably be put in operation by Major Gen. Otis and Rear Admiral Watson within a short time. The matter will be taken up for consideration when President McKinley returns to Washington. He is expected to reach here on Saturday.

The Government has been aware for several months that the insurgents were securing food and ammunition from places outside of the islands and every effort has been made to stop this traffic. The recent addition to the naval force in the Philippines of a number of light-draft gunboats captured or purchased from Spain has been met by a great many captures of filibustering craft, mostly small sailing boats, but it was not until the international considerations of the blockade of the Philippines have not been made as effective as the Government desires. From the first the Navy Department has insisted that the only sure means of preventing the traffic was the establishment of a blockade of all ports in Luzon, Cebu, and Iloilo, and this has just been followed by the recommendation by the Department to that effect. Naval officers insist the navy is able to shut off all supplies for the insurgents shipped from outside places, and it has been urged by the Government authorities by naval officers that if the plan were carried into effect, the insurgent would end within a very short time.

While there does not appear to be any difference of opinion as to the excellence of this policy among the officials of the three departments concerned—State, War and Navy—some of those in authority have questioned the advisability of pursuing such a course on the ground that it would be a violation of international law, and that it would be a violation of international law. It has been pointed out that under international law a nation cannot blockade its own ports, and for the United States to declare a blockade of ports in the Philippines would be virtually acknowledging that a blockade of all ports in the Philippines was maintaining a Government of their own, and were exercising it within certain territory. Whether the means of overcoming this objection can be found remains to be seen, but officials here are confident that the conference with the President will result in the adoption of a plan which, while putting into operation, will effectively shut off the means now possessed by the insurgents of securing outside aid.

Gen. Otis has not been very successful in establishing a satisfactory system of keeping contraband supplies from reaching Luzon. On June 25 he informed the War Department that he had opened a blockade of the coast, and that, prior to that time had been closed to commerce on account of the activity of the insurgents. On Aug. 10 Gen. Otis informed the War Department that he had issued a decree closing insurgent ports to international traffic. The object of this was to prevent the transportation of outside supplies to the insurgents. Certain ports which were virtually in the possession of the insurgents were declared by Aguinaldo to be closed to vessels flying the American flag, and the decree of Gen. Otis was issued in retaliation. At present the ports in the Philippines are closed to traffic with the United States, but vessels from outside places are permitted to enter if their papers are regular.

The result of this liberality in trade without side ports, however, has not been satisfactory. Much of the food supplies carried to the Philippines have been in the hands of foreign vessels, and the latter also benefit by the money received by native shippers for their supplies of tobacco, hemp and other products which are exported on the vessels bringing the food.

It has been proposed as a means of meeting the difficulty of the blockade, that the ports in Luzon, with the exception of Manila, to outside trade. Such action would not constitute the declaration of a blockade, and would not furnish an excuse for foreign governments to recognize insurgent belligerence. What amounts to a blockade is now being maintained by United States vessels in the waters of Luzon. One or two vessels are to be bound off every port in that island, but their commanders have no authority to prevent the loading of supplies from American and foreign ships, whose papers are regular, where the ships do not carry contraband of war.

The naval authorities are apparently very anxious to have a formal blockade declared. They contend that the moral effect of the recognition of the insurgents as belligerents by other nations on the basis of the declaration would be very small as compared with the benefit to the United States through an effective stoppage of all supplies.

TO STUDY PORTO RICAN NEEDS. Gen. Davis appoints a Board to Consider the Island's Wants.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—In a report just received at the War Department, Gen. George W. Davis, Military Governor of Porto Rico, announces the appointment of an advisory board for the following purposes:

"For consideration of questions on insular policy; for devising measures looking to the industrial and economic improvement of Porto Rico; for conducting a general survey of the island, and for recommending such measures as may be necessary to enable the island to support its population and restore its houses, fields, and crops."

The board is limited in its authority to investigating and reporting on matters of interest to the island. The following have been named as members of the board: Andrew Cross, Jr., R. Latimer, Francisco Acuna, M. Egozcue, Manuel Paniguel, Santiago R. Palmer, Rafael Palacios Apellaniz, F. Guillermey, Ramon Mendez Gordona. Gen. Davis says that the Military Governor of Porto Rico will be ex officio the President of the board, but as his public duty will frequently prevent his participation in its meetings, the board will elect a Vice-President and Secretary. The board is authorized to employ a clerk and other help.

In connection with the work of distributing aid to the destitute Porto Ricans, the Military Governor has issued the following order:

"It having been brought to the attention of the Department Co. commander that idle, able-bodied men are refusing work at fair wages, it is hereby ordered that no such man who so refuses will be permitted to draw food for himself or family. He is to be employed in the public duty which he is required to do, or to do such work or service as his division inspector or his representative may direct."

TO BUY PORTO RICAN COFFEE. Orders issued to the Army to Purchase that Kind for the Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The Subsistence Department of the Army has decided on a measure of practical relief for the suffering Porto Ricans, which, without being a charity, will do much to assist the people. Orders have been issued to the Army to purchase Porto Rican coffee for the use of the army. In this way a large part of the product will be utilized and the money paid for it will go to Porto Rico. Since the Spanish war, the Porto Ricans have been restricted in their coffee market, as Spain took a large part of the crop. The recent hurricane destroyed much of the growing coffee and a considerable quantity of the stored product, and there is said to be enough on hand to net the growers a tidy little sum. It is hoped by the military authorities that through its use by the army, Porto Rican coffee will become popular in this country.

TRANSPORTS FROM MANILA.

Gen. Otis Cables Shipping Dates—The Philippine Military Force.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Adj. Gen. Corbin received this morning from Gen. Otis a cablegram announcing the proposed dates of departure of the army transports bringing back to the United States all of the discharged troops and volunteer regiments now in the Philippines. The cable reads:

"Para sails Aug. 31; Tarrar, Sept. 3; Pennsylvania, Sept. 5; Newport and Ohio, Sept. 7. With the sailing of the Newport and Ohio the last of the volunteers will leave Manila and will reach San Francisco before the middle of October. The return of these volunteers will in no way interfere with Gen. Otis's plans for the War Department has been re-informing the army in the Philippines from time to time, and he has now 26,000 regular troops as an effective fighting force. In addition to this number, there are on the way to Manila 3,000 troops that will arrive there within the next two or three weeks. The volunteers are being sent to the two infantry regiments under Col. Rice and Bell and the Eleventh Cavalry under Col. Lockett. This will make an aggregate of 28,000 men, exclusive of the men to sail from Manila on the transports named, and with those now on the way to the Philippines will give a force of nearly 31,000 troops."
